After a short time in the pulpit ministry, getting married and moving back to Los Angeles, God redirected Bob into the field of Computer Science where he pioneered in many areas of technological engineering and implementation of systems upon which the current AI technologies depend. Then at God's direction Bob moved with his family back to Philadelphia and then to North Carolina where he currently resides.

As Bob puts it, "I was one of the most intentional, avid, energetic, purveyors of the Word of God with an intense focus on bringing people to Christ for salvation. I served in nearly every capacity in my churches and taught thousands of Bible Study meetings. But after 40 years in this avid pursuit of the knowledge of God, I came to feel as though I had somehow missed the point. I could not give you the name of a single person who I had personally led to 'faith in Jesus.' So I asked God to release me from the 'Christian fortress (church) and bring me to fruitful living in Christ."

Shortly after the turn of the century and 10 years before retirement from a highly successful career in business and prolific service to the church, God introduced Bob to Dr. Laubach's letters, Brother Lawrence's transformation, and Oswald Chambers' works. At this point, he embarked on a similar journey. For Bob it was also about a 2 year quest. But the rewards were immense.
