

Vol 1, Day 23 — SPONTANEITY OF LOVE

"Love suffers long, and is kind . . ."

— 1 Corinthians 13:4-8

Love is not premeditated. It is spontaneous. It simply bursts forth in extraordinary ways. There is nothing of mathematical certainty in Paul's category of love. We cannot say, "Now I am going to think no evil. I am going to believe all things." The characteristic of love is spontaneity. We do not set the statements of Jesus in front of us as a standard to be attained. But when His Spirit is having His way with us, we live according to His standard without even being aware of it. On looking back we are amazed at the disinterestedness of a particular emotion, which is the evidence that the spontaneity of real love was there. In everything to do with the life of God in us, its nature is only discerned when it is past.

The springs of love are in God, not in us. It is absurd to look for the love of God in our hearts naturally. It is only there when it has been shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Spirit.

If we try to prove to God how much we love Him, it is a sure sign that we do not love Him. The evidence of our love for Him is the absolute spontaneity of our love. It comes naturally. In looking back we cannot tell why we did certain things. We simply did them according to the spontaneous nature of His love in us. The life of God manifests itself in this spontaneous way because the springs of love are in the Holy Ghost. (Romans 5:5.)

When you wrongly define love as action, you cannot be in love at all. Everything that is based on expression alone contains no emotional content. It is only response to perceived duty or obligation. Love is never obligated to give. Love cannot help but give and to give generously without forethought or plan.
